

Special Student in Ceramics at UNL

This program brings in up to 3 students who have received their undergraduate degree and are looking for an intense ceramic experience in order to prepare for graduate school application or other future goals.

Special students receive 10x10 studio spaces within the advanced undergraduate studio. They take one 3-credit course per semester and have critiques with the ceramic faculty and advanced undergraduates. There is usually a special relationship with the graduate students. Special students pay a graduate student level lab fee of $250. This covers all materials and firing.

In order to apply for Special Student status at UNL send the following materials to Gail Kendall by April 15th:

- Twenty slides
- A copy of a transcript
- One letter of recommendation
- A Statement of Intent

Special students pay out-of-state tuition at the non-degree-grad student level....app. $1800 per semester. There is twenty-four hour studio access.
