LEARNER OBJECTIVES

WEBINAR - Data Collection: Four Steps to Behavior Change: Part 2: Obtaining a Baseline Measure

Participants will:

- Be able to explain the measurable dimensions of behavior (e.g., rate, duration, or inter-response times).
- Be able to determine the appropriate measurement procedures to use.
- Know how and when to use measures such as percent of occurrence and interval recording methods.
- Be able to state some of the advantages and disadvantages of using continuous measurement procedures and sampling techniques (e.g., partial- and whole-interval recording, momentary time sampling)
