The purpose of this award is to recognize outstanding student efforts to create a climate that encourages women to succeed at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. These efforts may be by an individual student or by a group of students. The award recipient(s) must demonstrate a commitment to creating an equitable campus environment. Such efforts might include, for example:

- Advocacy within a department or organization that improves the climate for women.
- Advocacy for a special population of women (international students, students with children, non-traditional students, women of color.)
- A student organization that provides a special service to female students and helps retain these students.
- A project that results in more women students entering graduate school in a special discipline.
- A project that promotes greater awareness of women’s issues within the University context.

Nomination Packet

Students, staff and faculty are invited to make nominations. In a letter of nomination, please describe your nominee’s accomplishments and activities related to creating a climate at UNL that encourages women’s success. Be specific in your comments, documenting concrete actions and attitudes that illustrate the nominee’s commitment to an equitable campus environment. Your nomination should also include the following:

a. This nomination form.
b. No more than three letters of support.
c. Additional supporting documentation may be included (but is not required). Please do not exceed three pages.

Please attach all supporting documentation to this nomination form and submit to: Jody Wood, 128 Canfield Administration, Lincoln, NE 68588-0437 or via email to jwood2@unl.edu, no later than February 15, 2016.
