SAUNDERS COUNTY, NEBRASKA

(Saunders County) lies in the middle eastern part of the state. It has 2,556 inhabitants. Wahoo is the county seat and located in the middle of the county. Here is published the Czech periodical 'Pritel Lidu' by J.A. Hospodsky and concerns the side of the alliance. Topography is varied, the western part of the county in parts is very rugged and the eastern part is moderately broken prairie. For the most part the land is level and the soil fertile. The land sells from around $25 to $50 per acre, but brings a higher price if close to a town. The Czech communities are mostly in the western part of the county as can be seen by the map. In the eastern part, various nationalities are found. The C.S.P.S. organization has several lodges in the district. They have their Czech national halls for their meetings and social events, also Czech schools are supported by these lodges. In Wahoo is Lodge Pioneer, Lodge Plzen in Morse Bluff, Lodge Vladislav in Prague. The Catholic Czechs have several churches throughout the county, one at Wahoo, one near the postoffice at Plasy on Cedar Hill and one in Weston.

The Czech Evangelicals have three places of worship, one west of Wahoo on the land of Anton Trutny, one north of Plasy and another in Weston.

The first Czech settler was Petr Kastl in the year 1868 and settled not far from the postoffice of Plasy. To the north in the community of Cedar Hill, the first settlers in 1869 were Fr. Kautsky, Jan Killian and Jos. Slavik.

Listening to the stories of the different old settlers, were tales of much suffering, hardship and poverty. Few had teams or wagons, roads were poor, distances too far to travel by foot to towns, and other places. Rivers and streams were without bridges, and grasshoppers ruined the crops. All of this showed great endurance of the early settler. The outlook for the new settler was a sod house, his garb was denim trousers, a shirt of coarse material and a soiled Czech European cap. His Czech wife was a sincere, hardworking solicitous woman who could often be found digging the prairie ground for a patch of potatoes. In those days, lucky was he who owned a pair of oxen or steers and his neighbors considered him wealthy. A wagon sometimes was the joint property of three or four settlers.

At this time, I will leave further description in the hands of other writers who may come along and write of the history of the early Czech settler and the following generations. With my pen, I tried to catch all of the memories of the sorrows and disappointments of the former generation that I was able. But come with me, dear readers, and spend a day with the Czechs of the county in celebrating the 25th Anniversary of the founding of Saunders County.

People traveled from all parts of the county in wagons drawn by teams of spirited horses. Some by horseback, but on all of the faces was a look of contentment. There was an abundance of housewives dressed in their best and the young people exuberant with their merrymaking. Here and there you find a young fellow whistling a tune in the American way. The event opened with a brass band playing the Czech National Anthem 'Kde Domu Muj' (Where is my Home), followed by the speaker of the day, Mr. Nedomy. To the young people, he related the terrible times of the past. A little group of genial settlers listening, turned their faces aside to hide the tears in their eyes and wiping their cheeks. I, too, have tears in my eyes as I realize that perhaps this may be my last time to attend an event like this as I am in very poor health, suffering pain from cancer. My finances at this time are at a very low ebb, almost to a point of poverty and so without aid or help, I can no longer carry out my work for any length of time. So may you farmers carry on in a happy and prosperous way. My work with all of you in these past few years was most rewarding, and I was happy to have made so many acquaintances with you kinsman. May I ask your forgiveness if I omitted some event or something you thought important in these articles, as it almost is impossible to remember and print everything. So to all, my heartfelt thanks for your hospitality and friendship which I value highly. In closing, may I wish all, my Czech kinsman, and their families the very best of everything.
