

February 2, 2008

Hello, Alums! It's Ground Hog Day as I write this and I hate to break the news to you, but I don't think winter is going to be over any time soon. But we have some great events planned for the next couple of months and hope you will join us.

Wine Tasting at The Still (Hwy 2 and 84th St.) on Thursday, February 21. We will meet at The Still at 5:30 to sample some wine. Then we'll move on to The Parthenon restaurant (Hwy 2 and 56th St.) sometime after 6:30 for dinner. Come join us for the whole evening or part of it. Please RSVP to Vicki Roy so we can let The Parthenon know approximately how many to expect.

Our collegiate/alum event will be held at Paint Yourself Silly on Sunday, March 2. Jenny Larson (daughter of Sandy Larson who is an active alum with our group) is planning the day. We're hoping that we have 10 alums who will be able to come. Please come support Jenny and the collegians and, well, paint yourself silly. The time is still TBD but most likely will be 2:00 – 4:00 that afternoon. More info to follow.

Senior Celebration is scheduled for Sunday evening, April 20th and will be hosted by Shelley Forney. Our dinner menu theme will be a Spring Salad Bar. Mark your calendars now.

In March, we will have a sign up for Treats for Finals Week.

Haven't paid your dues yet? It's never too late!

In IIKE,

Liz Bracken
