

Worksheet 4: Graduate student professional development plan

Adapted from Nyquist & Wulff (1996), p. 109

Use this worksheet to help your protégé start thinking about professional development goals and create a framework within which the two of you can talk about those goals. Jot down goals in the left-hand column. Then, in conversations with your protégé, identify strategies for achieving those goals, the means by which you will assess progress toward goals, how you and your protégé will follow up on his or her progress and the ultimate outcomes he or she hopes to achieve.
