

The First Annual Kripke Lecturer in Judaic Studies

ccidentalism: Dehumanizing the West

Professor Avishai Margalit

Shulman Professor of Philosophy at Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Professor Avishai Margalit will give two lectures on how the West is dehumanized in the eyes of its detractors, in what can be called Occidentalism. In his first lecture, Professor Margalit will explore the roots of Occidentalism in Nineteenth Century Russia. The second lecture will explore contemporary radical Islam as an Occidentalist ideology.

Professor Margalit will also lead a discussion after the showing of the Israeli film, "Time of Favor" at the Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center in Lincoln.

All events are free and open to the public.

Sponsored by the Harris Center for Judaic Studies

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska
Lincoln

Sunday, February 2, 2003

Roots of Occidentalism in Russia

7:30 p.m.

The Great Plains Art Collection in the Christlieb Gallery

1115 Q Street
Lincoln, NE

Monday, February 3, 2003

Radical Islam as an Occidentalist Ideology

7:30 p.m.

Jewish Community Center
333 South 132nd St.

Omaha, NE

Tuesday, February 4, 2003

*Showing of Israeli film "Time of Favor"
Discussion to follow*

7:00 p.m.

Mary Riepma Ross Media Arts Center
313 North 13th St.
Lincoln, NE