

CALL FOR MANUSCRIPTS

Established in 1981, Great Plains Quarterly publishes peer-reviewed articles on the history, literature, and culture of the Great Plains.

This journal finds a readership among both scholars and the interested general public and is used by college instructors in their assigned reading lists. It is edited by a faculty member from the UNL campus with the aid of an editorial assistant and a distinguished international board of advisory editors.

GREAT PLAINS QUARTERLY

A PEER-REVIEWED JOURNAL ESTABLISHED IN 1981

GREAT PLAINS QUARTERLY welcomes the submission of manuscripts and essays that are both solidly researched and engagingly written. Blind review procedures are followed for all submitted articles. The editor in consultation with the associate editors makes the final decision to publish an article.

Total length of manuscripts, including notes and illustrations, should not exceed thirty pages, but shorter contributions will be preferred. All copy, including notes and captions, should be double spaced. References in the notes should conform to the mode specified in The Chicago Manual of Style (15th ed., 2003) or the Quarterly Style Sheet and Images Style Sheet.

For "Submission Instructions to Authors," consult the website or the editorial office.
