OUTSIDE REFERENCES

Full dossiers must include at least two external (to UNL) and independent letters of review. “Independent” means letters will be from individuals who have had no (or only limited) professional or personal relationships with the candidate and who have been chosen for their ability to provide a disinterested (“objective”) assessment; these would not include dissertation advisors, current or former collaborators, former colleagues, personal friends or others who have any special relationship to the candidate.

In cases where the extreme prominence of a candidate makes independent letters impracticable, special care should be taken to solicit letters from exceptionally prominent reviewers.
