Spring 2011 Colloquium Series
Science and Gender Matters

BRAIN SEX:
TRUTH, TALL TALES, AND TIME FOR A DEVELOPMENTAL PERSPECTIVE
LISE ELIOT, Neuroscientist and Professor at the Chicago Medical School of Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine & Science
Monday, January 24
7:30 PM, Jackie Gaughan Multicultural Center, Room 212

MOTHERHOOD, THE ELEPHANT IN THE LABORATORY:
RECONSIDERING THE LEAKY PIPELINE?
EMILY MONOSSON, Toxicologist, Activist, and Author
Tuesday, March 15
3:30 PM, Nebraska Union (Room Posted)

GENDERED INNOVATIONS IN SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING:
LONDA SCHIEBINGER, John L. Hinds Professor of History of Science; Director, Gendered Innovations in Science, Medicine, and Engineering Project, Stanford University
Monday, April 4
7:30 PM, Jackie Gaughan Multicultural Center, Room 212

This series is co-sponsored by: College of Arts & Sciences, College of Agriscience and Natural Resources, School of Natural Resources, School of Biological Sciences, the Departments of Physics, Earth and Atmospheric Sciences, Psychology, Educational Psychology, Political Science, ADVANCE - Nebraska, UNL Convocations Committee, and the Willa Cather Circle

For more information, contact Women's and Gender Studies:
(402) 472-9392 • 327 Seaton Hall • http://www.unl.edu/womenssp