Women’s and Gender Studies

Spring 2014 Colloquium Series

SAVING THE MUSLIM WOMAN
BASULI DEB, Assistant Professor, English & Women’s and Gender Studies, UNL
Monday, February 3
3:30 PM, Nebraska Union (Room Posted)

“TRAVELLING BODIES”:
Theorizing Subaltern Women’s Movements in(to) Protoimperialist England, c. 1560-1580
BERNADETTE ANDREA, Professor, English, University of Texas at San Antonio,
Friday, March 14
7:00 PM, The Center for Great Plains Studies

THE GRASP THAT REACHES BEYOND THE GRAVE:
The Ancestral Call in Black Women’s Literature
VENETRIA K. PATTON, Director, African American Studies and Research Center and Associate Professor, English & African American Studies, Purdue University
Tuesday, March 18
3:30 PM, Andrews Hall, Bailey Library (Room 229)

For more information, contact Women’s and Gender Studies:
(402) 472-9392 • 327 Seaton Hall • http://www.unl.edu/wgs