ADAMS COUNTY, NEBRASKA

(It) lies in the south part of the state and has 24,301 inhabitants. Hastings which is on a railroad west of Lincoln, is the county seat. The topography in most of the county is moderate rolling prairie. Soil is fertile, except a small part in the northwestern tip of the county near the North Platte River where it is sandy. The Czechs settled in the eastern part united with the first settlers who resided in Clay and Webster Counties. We find a Mr. Fr. Kucera who came from Racic near Beroun (in Czechoslovakia) with statesmen erected an infirmiry (or hospital) in Hastings.
