CLAY COUNTY, NEBRASKA

The county lies in the southeastern part of the state and is the second county north of the Kansas border. The population is 16,306. Clay Center is the county seat. Topography is gently rolling prairie and in places the land is level, but parts of the northeast and southwest are more rolling. Portions are different and exactly opposite.. The soil in some places where it isn't sandy, is quite good and water for drinking is possible from 10 to 50 feet deep. Price of the land is $10.00 to $25.00 an acre. In the northern part is a Russian Colony of settlers of German extraction and the Czech settlers are in the southwestern part. The first Czechs to settle were Mr. Vacl. Vlk, and V. Janda in Fairfield and Fort in Dewesee.
