

3-CREDIT INTERNSHIP

with the Nebraska Writers Collective

SPRING 2022 |
ENGL 495

What You'll Do

The Nebraska Writers Collective is a non-profit that promotes creative writing and performance poetry throughout the Midwest.

As an NWC intern, you will have the opportunity to help run the youth poetry program, Louder Than a Bomb Great Plains, gaining experience with:

- Editing an anthology for local youth poets across the region.
- Helping develop and support the Nebraska Youth Poet Laureate Program.
- Classroom teaching and mentorship experience under the guidance of some of Nebraska's best poets and educators.
- Being a part of a growing non-profit that values your input.

Internship supervised by UNL Professor Stacey Waite

Ready to Apply?

DEADLINE: October 20, 2021

Send a resume and letter of interest to Professor Stacey Waite at swaite2@unl.edu.

The letter of interest should detail your experience with and interest in writing, slam poetry, mentoring, and/or working creatively with youth.

BE A PART OF A GROWING COMMUNITY!

Visit us at www.newwriters.org

and

@newwriters on Facebook & Instagram