Young Writers Camp 2014 June 16-27

Young Writers Camp (YWC) is a two week-long program for high school students (grades 9-12) who consider themselves aspiring writers: song writers, slam poets, short story writers, playwrights, mystery writers, rhyme spinners, any kind of writer at all.

In addition to attending the camp and working with accomplished writers in the community, you will:

- Have your work collected in a Young Writers Camp anthology
- Give a public reading of your work in a celebration of writing on the evening of June 28th, the final day of your camp
- Have opportunities to work one-on-one with the writers who mentor you

"It was nothing short of amazing. The instructors were incredible and the writers spectacular. If it's here again this summer I'm definitely going back. Gave me all kinds of writing ideas by the time it was over"-- Adrian Martinez

"Young Writers Camp taught me that it is really ok to express the inexpressible, and that courage is everything when it comes to writing, life, and being who you are. It was such a blessing to be surrounded by those kind of brave mentors and to learn that writers truly are: an awesome, different breed. Camp was the highlight of my summer and I am so grateful for it." -- Celie Knudsen
