A combined effort from the University of Nebraska’s Center for Great Plains Studies and the Nebraska Commission on Indian Affairs will bring a symposium to Lincoln focused on Chief Standing Bear, the Standing Bear Trail and continuing issues for Native Americans in the Great Plains today.

The symposium is a two-day, interdisciplinary event attracting scholars, public officials, tribal members, and other interested members of the public from across the Great Plains.

The NCIA will hold its 2015 Chief Standing Bear Breakfast in Lincoln, where it will be part of the symposium’s events.

Visit www.unl.edu/plains for more on the yearly symposium and the Center for Great Plains Studies

Visit http://www.indianaffairs.state.ne.us/ for more on Chief Standing Bear, the Standing Bear Trail and the Commission’s work.

Twitter:
@NeIndianAffairs
@UNLGreatPlains