

2021 Heuermann Fellowship Awards

Katharine Hogan

Studying Natural Resources Science (Applied Ecology specialization) through the School of Natural Resources

Advised by Dr. Craig Allen

Fernanda Krupek

Studying Cropping systems and soil health management through the Department of Agronomy and Horticulture

Advised by Dr. Andrea Basche

The Heuermann UNL Plant Science Fellowship was established in 2020 with funds donated by Mr. B. Keith and Norma Heuermann. The fellowship recognizes doctoral program students for excellence in plant science research and their potential for accomplishments in the field.

Jiating Li

Studying Agricultural & Biological Systems Engineering through the Department of Biological Systems Engineering

Advised by Dr. Yeyin Shi

Bailey McNichol

Studying Plant Ecology through the School of Biological Sciences - Ecology, Evolution, and Behavior

Advised by Dr. Sabrina Russo

CENTER FOR PLANT
SCIENCE INNOVATION