About the CFPB
The CFPB is focused on making consumer financial markets work for families by empowering consumers to take more control over their financial lives. We are working to foster a marketplace:

- Where customers can see prices and risks up front and where they can easily make product comparisons.
- In which no one can build a business model around unfair, deceptive, or abusive practices.
- That works for American consumers, responsible providers, and the economy as a whole.

How to submit a complaint
The CFPB accepts complaints about consumer financial products and services
Once you submit a complaint

1 Complaint submitted
You submit a complaint about an issue you have with a company about a consumer financial product or service. You will receive email updates and can log in to track the status of your complaint.

2 Review and route
We’ll forward your complaint to the company and work to get a response from them. If we find that another government agency would be better able to assist, we will forward your complaint to them and let you know.

3 Company response
The company will review your complaint, communicate with you as needed, and report back about the steps taken or that will be taken on the issue you identify in your complaint.

4 Consumer review
We will let you know when the company responds. You can review that response and give us feedback.

5 Review and investigate
Complaint data is shared with state and federal law enforcement agencies. Complaints tell us about business practices that may pose risks to consumers. If we need more information, we’ll reach out and let you know.

6 Analyze and report
Complaints help with our work to supervise companies, enforce federal consumer financial laws, and write better rules and regulations. We also report to Congress about the complaints we receive and post some consumer complaint data.
