VERIFICATION FORM FOR ATTENTION DEFICIT DISORDERS

The University of Nebraska Lincoln (UNL) is required by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act to provide effective auxiliary aids and services for qualified students with documented disabilities if such accommodations are needed to provide equal access to the University’s programs and services. Federal law defines a disability as “a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities.” Major life activities are defined as the ability to perform functions such as walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, working, or taking care of oneself. It is important to note that difficulties with attention do not necessarily constitute a disability. The degree of impairment must be significant enough to “substantially limit” one or more major life activities.

The Office of Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) strives to insure that qualified students with Attention Deficit Disorders are accommodated, and if possible, that these accommodations do not jeopardize successful therapeutic interventions. The office does not modify requirements that are essential to the program of instruction or provide accommodations for persons whose impairments do not substantially limit one or more major life activities.

This form is designed to allow us to achieve these goals. Students who wish to receive academic adjustments due to an Attention Deficit Disorder should have this form filled out by a psychiatrist, licensed psychologist, certified social worker (CSW or ACSW) or licensed professional counselor. The professional completing this form must have first-hand knowledge of the student’s condition, must have experience diagnosing and treating college students, and will be an impartial professional who is not related to the student.

This form is not the only part of this process. Equally and sometimes more important will be your interview with SSD staff. Ideally this would happen before you begin attending class.
