Women’s Studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln: A Brief Digital History
Danielle Rue, Women’s and Gender Studies Major, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Rue will present her digital history project, which explores the early years of UNL’s Women’s Studies program in the 1960s and 1970s as well as the university’s attitude more generally towards issues of race, gender, and sexuality during that period.

Monday, October 27, 2014
3:30-5:00 pm, Nebraska Union (Room Posted)