WOMEN'S STUDIES
ON THE MOVE
After many months of planning, the Women's Studies Office will be relocating to 308 Avery Hall prior to fall semester. Fresh paint, new carpet and mini-blinds will be awaiting the director and staff. Although the official moving date has not been set, the Program will occupy the new space sometime during the month of August. The new address will be 308 Avery Hall (0136); the current phone number, 472-9392, will remain the same.

Everyone is invited to come see the new offices. An office warming and open house will be planned for later in the semester.

A FOND FAREWELL
Barbara DiBernard's term as Program Director for the Women's Studies Program will end at the close of summer session. Many students, faculty, and staff have benefited from her encouragement and guidance, as well as her vision and optimism. Barbara's impact on the Women's Studies Program will be felt for many years to come.

WELCOME CHRISTINA
Christina Brantner, a professor of German in Modern Languages, will begin her term as Director beginning fall semester, and will be available at her 1141 Oldfather office after August 10. Her phone number is 472-3758.

Christina will also have an office at 308 Avery Hall and her phone number will be 472-9300. Her office hours will be posted.
