We invite you to join us for a presentation and question and answer session with reception to follow; event is open to the public.

Professor Wettlaufer is a core faculty member of the Comparative Literature, Women’s and Gender Studies and European Studies departments. She brings to light a rich and nearly forgotten culture of women’s artistic production, allowing us to understand the nineteenth-century in more complex and nuanced ways across the borders of gender, genre, and nation.

January 22, 2015
5:00 pm | Reception to follow

Bailey Library
3rd Floor, Andrews Hall, Lincoln, NE 68588